New features in this release

Password protection for groups created by candidates

No activation required. Included in all plans.

The purpose of password protecting candidate-created groups is to prevent students from joining groups they are not supposed to be a member of, or are not invited too.

How it works

Planners enabling group submissions for a given test, now have a new option:

Enable candidates to create password protected groups

How do you want to create the groups? The total number of assigned candidates are : 0

☒ Create groups and add candidates randomly

Number of groups:  Candidates pr. group:

☐ Create empty groups and candidates manually to each group

Number of groups:

☐ Enable candidates to create open groups

☒ Enable candidates to create password protected groups New

Joining a group requires a 16 digit password shared by existing group members. Learn More

Candidates creating new groups are now informed that their group is password protected:

Custom Essay Toolbars and Math Symbol Palettes postponed

Unfortunately, over the past weeks of testing, we recognised that there are still some more optimisations required before these features are ready for general release.

Improvements

Improved Connection Lost messages during exams

To help local staff to take more appropriate action upon loss of internet, the Connection Lost message is now extended with information about the nature of the loss:

Local network issue or Server connection issue.

How it works

During onscreen tests, candidate internet connections are verified every minute. In the case of temporary loss and of connection, candidates are informed by two messages:

1. Connection lost • Trying to reconnect
2. Connection restored • Submission saved to the server

If the connection is not restored within two minutes, the alert is then updated to one of the following messages:

- No internet connection • Local network issues detected. This might be permanent. Please contact an invigilator to download submission.
- No server connection • Keep calm and carry on. Your work is continuously saved on your device, and on the server when connection is restored.
