New features in this release

New question type: Text Area

Manually marked. The Text Area question type is similar to the plain text version of Essay questions, except it has more flexibility when it comes to layout:

- Add multiple text areas in the same question
- Define the width of the text area in pixels or percent
- Use tables to build complex layouts combining text areas, texts and images.

Text Area example

Question Text

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. Integer blandit facilisis risus, non porta augue aliquam non. Morbi quis orci dui. .

- Lockdown Browser - Safe Exam Browser

School Exams with Lockdown Browser: This new feature disables post-submission review from candidates not logged in with Safe Exam Browser in the same session as when they submitted, allowing planners to hide submissions from all candidates that have left the location, even if they have Safe Exam Browser on a computer at home (and the post-submission review window is still open).

Public Demo Tests hidden from Candidate Dashboard

Improvement: The main purpose of the Public Demo Tests is that it can be made available from anywhere as long as you have/share the link. No login required. This is also the reason we have now hidden these tests from Candidate Dashboard Demo tab.

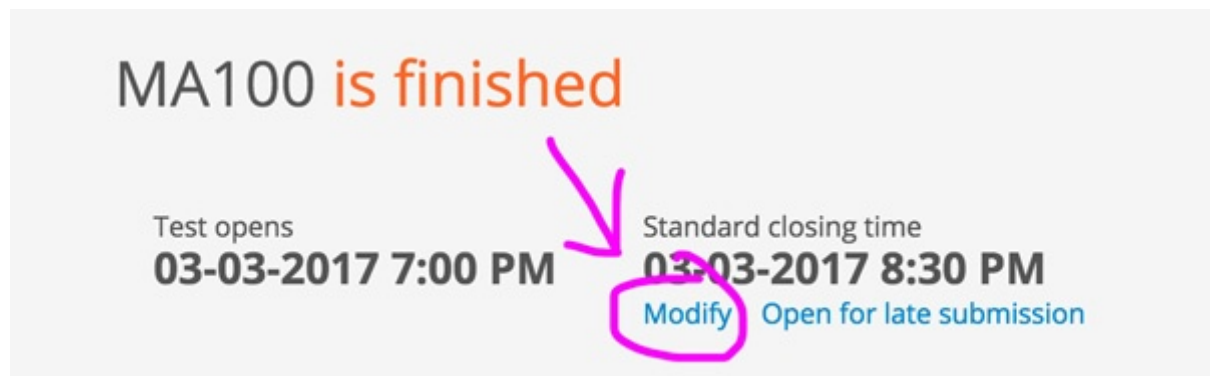

Limit maximum number of selections to number of correct answers

Multiple Response: In terms of scoring rules, the Multiple Response question type is more complex than you might think. A main issue has been how to avoid awarding marks unintentionally to candidates selecting all alternatives. This can now be prevented.

Change end time to finished tests

Test not synced from external systems: It is now possible to extend the time window for tests that have already ended, unless grading has started.

Import admin users with CSV

It is now possible to import multiple admin-users at once using CSV:

Other improvements

- MCQ: Improved support for 30+ alternatives

- One time candidates: Reduced password length

Known issues after release

- Polish Language Pack disabled on some accounts. Will be updated Monday.
