A quick introduction

Duration: 01:45

The new tool is scheduled to be rolled out in three steps:

Step 1 - 10th May 2019 - Activation opens

Account admins can from 10th May contact Inspira Service Desk to enable the new commenting tool. It can then be enabled on individual tests by all planners.

Step 2 - 7th June 2019

Launch. New commenting tool default for new tests when activated on account. Old commenting tool only available as a fallback option.

Step 3 - 5th July 2019

Transition completed. All graders in all accounts have the new commenting tool enabled by default. The existing commenting tool will no longer be available.

Managing the new commenting tool (Planners)

Checking the "Enable new comments tool" in test options, will activate the new commenting panel for all graders on the test. As planner, you can opt in and out on behalf of graders at any stage in the test life cycle, but keep in mind that it is not possible to share a mix of comments from the old and new commenting tool with students simultaneously.

Enable new commenting tool

An introduction video about how to create comments is included in the setup panel and inside the new comments panel.

Sharing comments with students

Given that grading has been completed, sharing comments with students will make annotations and page notes posted in Student category visible to students in their Dashboard. Comments posted in other categories are hidden from students at all times.

Share comments and correct answers with candidate.

Not shared.
Comments are private to each grader.

Shared with candidate.
Available for candidates with status Graded.

Existing option to hide or share comments with students is working in the exact same way as before.

Students will access comments in the same way as before. The only change is that comments from graders are shown in the new comments panel.
